

500 ATTEND RITES FOR FAMILY WIPED OUT IN TRAGIC ACCIDENT

Services Held At St. John Baptist Church

The death of a single loved one can burden a family with almost interminable sadness, even when that death is expected. Imagine, then, the grief the relatives of the Baxter Terry family must feel.

One minute, the Terrys were a happy family, headed home to Dad could rest a bit after his work. The next, all four members of the family were dead, victims in one of the most tragic highway accidents in recent history.

Nor were the relatives the only mourners. An estimated 500 persons crowded into St. John Baptist Church on Monday to pay their last respects to the victims and to hear 10 ministers offer words of comfort and solace to the grief-stricken survivors of Baxter Terry, 36; Mrs. Marjorie Terry, 40; their daughter, Darlene, 2, and Katherine Spivey, 9. Mrs. Terry's daughter by a previous marriage.

REV. ANDREW J. BROWN set the tone for the dignified services with his promise that "We shall rely upon the emotions" of the grieving family. Pastor of the church where the rites were held, he also sang a solo.

Further solace was tendered the mourners with a selection by the choir, "We'll Understand It All By and By."

The family and friends were valiant in their efforts to maintain their composure. Only an occasional sob, an uncontrollable outburst betrayed their sadness during the eulogy, delivered by Rev. S. T. Adams, the Terry's pastor at Carter Memorial Baptist Church (the funeral was held at St. John because of the larger seating capacity).

The sobs were less restrained and more frequent as the relatives and friends viewed the bodies.

After the comparatively brief services, most of the mourners braved the cold winds to make the grim trek to Crown Hill Cemetery, where Stuart Mortuary was in charge of burial.

THE FAMILY was wiped out Saturday when their 1958 Mercury, operated by Mrs. Terry, skidded out of control at 73rd and Meridian and was crushed by a South Bend-bound motor bus.

Mrs. Terry and the children were returning from Meridian Hills, where they had gone to pick up Mr. Terry, who had an extra job there, when the tragedy occurred. No one on the bus was injured, but all four of the occupants of the car apparently were killed outright.

Mr. Terry, a native of Robinson County, Tenn., had lived here 18 years and was employed in the

Crash Foils Escape After Daring Holdup

Sees North Looking More Like South Than Ever

By CHARLES S. PRESTON

As a result of the migration of Negroes into Northern industrial areas, the North is coming to look more and more like what the South has been than at any time since the landing of the first slaves at Jamestown in 1619.

So observed Patrick Murphy Malin, national executive director of the American Civil Liberties Union, in a penetrating address before the local chapter at Atherton Center, Butler University, on Tuesday.

In his talk, entitled "The Civil Rights Implications of the Civil Rights Struggle," Mr. Malin made a searching examination of the rights conflict on both sides of the Mason-Dixon Line.

BOTH WHITES AND Negroes

are leaving Dixie in droves, he pointed out. "Twenty-six thousand whites and Negroes left the county of Tupelo, Miss. (Lee County), in 1957."

The Negroes arriving in the North have a higher birth-rate than the whites and they are compelled by housing segregation to congregate in the central areas of the cities, the speaker continued. Meanwhile the whites are moving out to the suburbs.

"This move was going on already for economic reasons. When you complicate it with the racial factor, you store up trouble beyond any we have known in the North," Malin said.

He predicted that within five years, more than half of America's Negroes will live in the North.

THE ARRIVAL of masses of Negroes "gives white groups who have been experiencing the short end of the discrimination stick, such as foreign-born groups, a chance to have their inings in the game of automatic superiority," the speaker continued.

"Most of the people who run about of the police in the central areas are minority-group members and increasingly Negroes," he informed his audience, and urged:

"Let no one neglect the problem of due process at the point where the police and lower magistrates touch the poor!"

"A nation and a civilization achieve and sustain stability — not to mention cordiality — by virtue of success in handling the congested populations of central areas."

Heretofore, Mr. Malin said, the North has solved its racial problem by segregated housing. "In many areas of the North," he declared, "there is as much school segregation as in the South, because of housing segregation."

The situation will be remedied, he said, by methods of persuasion, municipal legislation and state legislation. "We are missing early tricks by relying on Federal action rather than developing grass roots beginnings to meet this problem."

$15,000 Taken In Robbery of Supermarket

MICHIGAN CITY — A fleeing auto containing three Negro suspects involved in a near perfect $15,154 Supermarket holdup crashed two roadblocks here Sunday in an effort to escape pursuing State Police who's gunfire finally sent the suspects' car hurtling off the highway and into a ditch after a 10 mile chase at speeds up to 100 mph.

Captured by police were Clarence Mitchell, 45, and Dewey Shuey, 53, both of Chicago, and Ozie R. Sledge, 47, of Waukegan, Ill., who was wounded by a shotgun blast in the right arm as he attempted to flee the wreckage.

Mitchell and Sledge are in Michigan City jail and Shuey is in Doctor's Hospital in good condition under police guard.

The robbery occurred shortly after 6:30 at Al's Thrifty Mart. Alvin Pontius, 34, owner of the market, said three men approached him as he got in his car behind the store after closing for the night.

The men overpowered him, threatened him with revolvers and forced him to open a store safe. The holdup men took $7,832.32 in cash and $7,272.23 in checks, but (Continued on Page 2)

Smith Cheatham To Head YMCA Membership Drive

The Fall Creek Parkway YMCA will begin its 1960 Membership Drive in February under the leadership of Smith H. Cheatham, board of management chairman, Dr. H. N. Middleton, announced this week.

Mr. Cheatham will lead a force of 150 campaigners who hope to raise $20,000 to support the YMCA's youth work during the year. He has been active in the campaign for several years and last year was a division leader. Last year he was also named "Father of the Year."

"I am honored to be appointed to this important post," Mr. Cheatham said, "and I am confident that our campaign workers and the citizens of the community will cooperate to assure that the YMCA's service continues next year at an expanded capacity."

The "Y" now has more than 2100 youngsters from 6 to 18 years old meeting regularly in 55 clubs and special interest groups. Mr. Cheatham reported. In addition, a total of more than 230 young people attended summer and day camps.

Mr. Cheatham said he is in the process of obtaining additional leadership for the membership drive. It is expected that board members will serve as executive committee members.

An advance gifts drive is slated to get underway about three weeks prior to the regular campaign. The chairman said present plans call for the advance gifts drive to have a goal of $10,000 with the regular field forces shooting for the other $10,000.

Vandals Hit More Homes in Integrated Housing Development

DEERFIELD, Ill. — Vandals caused an estimated $1,000 damage last week at the site of an integrated housing development. Police Chief David Petersen said someone hurled 12 metal window frames and a quantity of lumber from one of the two-story model homes being constructed in the development.

It was the second case of vandalism in a month involving the housing project which has met with opposition from some residents of the all-white community of 10,000 north of Chicago.

The damage estimate was made by Max Weinrib, executive vice-president of the development firm. Weinrib charged the action was designed to slow up construction of the homes.

The firm plans to build 51 homes in the development and sell 10 or 12 of them to Negroes.

Lynching Does Not Violate Federal Law Judge Tells 'Mack Parker' Grand Jury

BLOOMINGTON, Miss.—U. S. District Judge Sidney Mize told a 23-man federal grand jury here early this week lynching "is not a violation of any federal statute. But it is 'murder' punishable by the state."

The court imparted this manner of opinion as the federal grand jury, one Negro and 22 white men, began a probe of the lynching of Mack Charles Parker, who was dragged from his Poplarville jail cell by a band of masked men last April.

"It is not," Judge Mize told the jurors, "a violation of the Civil Rights Act if individuals conspire to seize a person from a safe jail or from the sheriff and kill him."

The Pearl River County (Miss.) grand jury refused last year to even look at the FBI's report on the lynching of Mack Charles Parker.

The U. S. Department of Justice is trying to bring the accused mob members to trial in federal court, following the laxity of the state in regard to the crime.

However, Judge Mize said that "if individuals conspired with the sheriff or any of his deputies of Pearl River County to seize Parker and injure him or kill him, then that is a violation of Section 242 of Title 18 of the U.S. Code and all conspirators, along with the sheriff or deputy in the conspiracy would be guilty of a crime."

He said further, "If the sheriff (Continued on Page 2)

John Kasper Wins Reprieve from Jail

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Segregationist John Kasper, facing a six-month jail sentence for inciting to riot, won an 11th hour reprieve on an appeal for review of his conviction by the State Supreme Court last Thursday.

Kasper, who came here to face trial serving sentence on a similar charge from the Federal jail in Tallahassee, Fla., recently, was to begin serving the six-month sentence immediately. He was also fined $500.

Kasper is now out on a $2,500 cash bond posted by an Antioch merchant.

The six-month conviction was slapped on the lanky, Northern-born segregationist for stirring up trouble during desegregation of Nashville schools in Sept., 1957. He was tried in Nov., 1958.

The reprieve was granted Kasper by Criminal Court Judge Homer Weaver after the State Supreme Court ruled the segregationist could remain free on bond pending the outcome of the appeal.

With the New Year slightly less than three hours old Friday morning, police were called to the playground in the rear of school No. 24 in the 900 block of West North, where they found a 48-year-old Westside woman who had been brutally beaten and criminally assaulted.

Officers were called to the school playground by Thomas Beasley, 1142 W. 29th, who said he was driving by the school when he noticed the woman in a dazed condition staggering through the yard.

Beasley said he stopped his car when he saw the woman collapse. He told the investigating officers, as he approached the woman he saw a man wearing a three-quarter length coat run from the rear of the school.

At General Hospital, the woman told officers she was returning home from New Year's festivities when she was attacked by a "very dark skinned man." She said the man beat her, tore her clothes and attacked her twice on arpe at the rear of the school building.

On Thursday she was listed in fair condition at General

'Friendly Crap Game' Fatal For 'Slick' Professional Gambler

GARY — A "professional gambler" who tried to muscle his way into a "friendly crap game" was slain Friday of last week.

Gus "Bug" Brooks, whose sister Mrs. Little Jackson described him as "a gambler with no regular job," was dead on arrival at Methodist Hospital. He was shot in the neck and wrist.

Tom William Spiller, 33, who admitted firing the fatal blasts, told police he had gone to the Family Garden Restaurant after leaving work early New Year's Day and that a "friendly crap game" had started in the rear of the establishment.

"We didn't want 'Bug' in the game because he was too slick for a friendly game," Spiller and witnesses said.

A quarrel developed between Spiller and Brooks and the gambler threatened to kill Spiller, it was reported.

When Brooks made a "pocket play," Spiller drew a .22 caliber revolver from his belt and fired, he told police.

Spiller said he was carrying the death weapon because he had promised his children he would fire it for them at midnight.

He was held on an open charge pending filing of formal murder charges on Monday.

Barber, 103, Accused Of Raping Girl, 10

Accused of dragging a 10-year-old girl into his shop Oct. 25 and attempting to molest her, 103-year-old Frank C. Wiant, a Westside barber who formerly operated a barbershop at 1116 Udell, appeared in Criminal Court 2 this week and protested he was innocent.

Wiant, who says he is a Cherokee Indian, is under indictment on a morals charge and charges of disorderly conduct and resisting arrest. He was shot through the leg while he was being arrested later the same day by a policeman who said Wiant tried to stab him with a knife.

A public defender was appointed by Judge Thomas J. Faulconer to represent Wiant.

Minister Is First Negro To Serve On Major City Board

Democratic leaders here have hailed the appointment of a young minister as the first Negro to serve on any major administrative board in Indianapolis. The naming of Rev. James L. Cummings to fill a vacancy on the Board of Zoning Appeals, they maintain, justifies their confidence in Democratic Mayor Charles Boswell as expressed during the recent city elections.

The announcement followed a prediction in the Christmas issue of The Recorder that such an appointment would be forthcoming. It was also revealed at that time that the mayor has a "person in mind" to become the first Negro on either the Board of Public Safety, Park Board or Board of Works.

MAYOR BOSWELL said he appointed Rev. Cummings, minister of Trinity CME Church, because he felt it would help to balance the variances granted for businesses in

Negro and white residential areas. "In the past," he said, "it has been very easy to get zoning variances in Negro residential areas but difficult in white neighborhoods."

Among other things, the Board of Zoning Appeals decides at its semi-monthly meetings at City Hall whether or not to allow variances for business and industrial firms in residential zones.

Rev. Cummings' duties will be "the same as any other board member," Noble P. Hollister, executive secretary, said.

The post does not carry a salary. Born in Todd County, Ky., Rev. Cummings spent his late formative years in Indianapolis. He was graduated from Crispus Attucks High School in 1944 and Lane College, Jackson, Tenn., in 1948, with a major business and industrial firms

DEATH CAME QUICKLY: Mrs. Marjorie L. Terry lost control of her car last Saturday, she, her husband Baxter, and her two children skidded to sudden death in the path of a South Bend-bound bus at 73rd and Meridian. Visible in the tangled wreckage are the remains of a sled which the children had just gotten for Christmas. None of the passengers or the driver of the bus was injured. $5,000 Goal Set By Attucks Citizens Committee of 100

Crispus Attucks high school graduates have realized commendable goals in all fields of significant endeavor, people attending a recent meeting of the Citizens Committee of 100-Scholarship Fund Drive were told.

This idea was expressed by Dr. Roscoe Polin, Alexander M. Moore and other speakers.

Dr. Polin, a nationally known musician is president of the Alumni Association of Attucks, while Mr. Moore, also an Attucks alumnus, is the principal of the school.

Mr. Moore observed, "Attucks students are first class people and deserve the best education that can be provided for them."

F. E. DeFrantz, Sr. is general chairman of the Citizens Committee of 100. Neal Harris is executive co-chairman. Members of the Committee and workers in the fund are pledged to raise $5,000.

The next planning meeting of the organization will be held Monday, Jan. 18, at 7:30 p. m. Friends and patrons of Attucks are invited to attend the meeting. A "kick-off meeting" is scheduled for Monday, Feb. 1. Talented graduates of the school will be featured on the program.

The all-out drive for funds is scheduled to be staged during the first 18 days of February. A Citizens Committee of 100 Dinner is planned for the month of May. Teams or divisions for the fund drive include the Green Division, Gold Division and Special Gifts Division and Mrs. Hervey Gamble.

overlooked another $10,000 in the safe in their hurry, Pontius said. The men bound Pontius' hands and feet and lashed him to a grocery stock cart before leaving.

Pontius was able to drag the cart to a telephone and free himself enough to telephone police moments after the holdup men left the store.

State Police were alerted and a trooper headed west on U.S. 20 spotted the car answering the broadcast description and followed it to a four-way intersection at U.S. 20 and U.S. 35.

The suspects' car stopped and the trooper halted behind it and got out of his patrol car carrying a shotgun loaded with rifle pellets. As he approached the suspects' car, it started forward and still uncertain if the car contained the holdup men, he fired his shotgun, the pellets striking the trunk and rear bumper. Then he ran back to his patrol car and resumed the chase.

A few hundred yards down the suspects' car ran a roadblock and was fired upon again.

The fleeing auto ran a second roadblock at U.S. 20 and Ind. 520, where a trooper had parked his car across the westbound lanes of U.S. 20. When the suspects' car speeded past, the trooper joined the chase.

The troopers pursued the car at speeds of 100 to 120 miles an hour. At a turn in U.S. 20 the suspects' auto suddenly spun out of control and rolled onto its right side in a ditch.

The suspects crawled out of the upset auto, police said, and Shuey began to run.

Trooper Edward Burke leaped from his car and fired at Shuey as he was trying to scale a wooden fence. The blast fractured Shuey's right elbow and the other two suspects surrendered.

At the State Police Post, Pontius identified Sledge as one of the holdup men. He later identified Shuey in the hospital.

Officers said all three of the men have police records. Sledge has served sentences in Michigan Prison at Jackson and in North Dakota, they said. Mitchell has served terms in Colorado and Pennsylvania. Both men were jailed for armed robbery.

Poplarville Whites 'Wrenched By Guilt' in Parker Lynching

NEW YORK—The white population of Poplarville, Miss., is "wrenched by conflict between dread and guilt" over the lynching of Mack Parker, a magazine editor declared recently.

Writing in the current issue of Look Magazine, Georgia-born editor George Leonard Jr. said he found during a recent visit to Poplarville that people were "trying desperately to force the ugly matter from their conscious minds."

"The people of Poplarville were obviously trying to fool themselves. Some of the less educated already had woven a web of fantasy to protect them from their own feelings," Leonard wrote.

He said he was told by one man that "most people" in Poplarville think that the Parker case was "a frame-up by the NAACP" and that "there wasn't no rape and there wasn't no lynching."

The Parker case made international headlines last April when Parker was dragged from his jail cell by a band of masked men two days before he was to go on trial for raping a pregnant white woman. Nine days later, his bullet-ridden body was recovered from the Pearl River.

Leonard said in Look that he was told by a Southern newspaperman that the local attitude supporting the lynching was far more general when the story broke than most of the local leaders are now willing to admit.

Narcotics Case Delayed, Woman Free On Bond

A woman who was arrested last September at Wier Cook Municipal Airport carrying $1,200 worth of heroin, was arraigned in Federal court this week and had her case continued at the request of her lawyer, Vi Gil L. Beeler.

The attorney of Mrs. Hilda B. Coleman, 27, 423 Harvard, said he had not had time to familiarize himself with the case. Mrs. Coleman will face a mandatory five-year sentence and a possible maximum of 25 years in prison if she is convicted on the narcotics charges outlined in the two-count indictment.

state, Mallin said the school desegregation struggle in the South has entered a new and more hopeful stage.

He attributed this principally to the influence of "young white business men who have taken a new lease on life, and for regional and industrial reasons believe the public schools must be kept open even at the price of token integration."

The business of these "New South" men are more massive than those of the old-time Southern business men, he declared, and they need two things:

1. Skilled labor.

2. Consumers, "including Negro consumers."

White religious groups such as Baptists and Methodists also are exerting an influence, he said.

"Both the business men and the religious people are on the side of youth," he said.

ASSERTING THAT LYNCHING has largely given way to subtler forms of oppression in the South, Mr. Mallin said the civil rights conflict is "bringing both South and North to find strains on their legal processes."

"What has been thought of as a simple problem of an east's distinctive group has spilled over into a general crisis."

The greatest need in the South, he said, is for white lawyers to defend Negroes in civil rights cases. In the North, it is for open occupancy housing.

NEGRO PRINCIPAL NAMED

GARY—William H. Watson, former assistant principal at Roosevelt High School, was named last week to replace Lee R. Gilbert as principal of Froebel School. A reassignment of duties resulted in new jobs for four members of the Gary school system.

The changes were recommended by school superintendent Alden H. Blankenship and approved unanimously by the board of school trustees at their meeting last week.

White Man Charged With Murder In Death of Negro Babysitter

SAN AUGUSTINE, Tex. — Following the death of Bobby Jean Ligon, 15, New Year's Day, veiled ugly rumors of rape have hovered over this East Texas town near the Louisiana border.

Bobby Jean was mangled by an automobile shortly after midnight, Dec. 31. The car was driven by Hugh Sparks, white, 37, a prominent insurance broker or agent.

She stayed in Sparks' home on New Year's Eve serving as a baby sitter with two of his children. He drove her home shortly afterwards and the sad ugly story climaxes the incident.

According to reports, tests were made to determine if the young fair-complexioned Negro baby sitter had been raped. But the findings have not been revealed to the public.

However, Elbert Nichols disclosed that Sparks had been charged with murdering the Ligon girl by running her down with his automobile. The girl was buried Monday in a country cemetery north of this town.

Sheriff Nichols said, "The people here are very sorry it happened. It is very bad."

Rights Council Asks Ike to Intercede for Civil Rights

By ALICE A. DUNNIGAN
WASHINGTON (ANP) — Upon his return to the United States from a 22,000 mile good will tour abroad, President Eisenhower was urged by the American Council on Human Rights to intercede for civil rights in his own country.

The Council's telegram which greeted the Chief Executive commended him for the success of his world peace mission.

"Now that you have observed first-hand the great forces at work for freedom and equality throughout the world, we entreat you to give immediate attention to the important domestic problems existing within this great democracy of ours and to make a decisive assessment of the role you, as President, can and must play," the telegram read.

"The nationwide tensions resulting from the struggle for human and civil rights can be greatly ameliorated by the passage of strong, well-defined, workable civil rights legislation and by the issuance of executive orders to counteract rebellion against enforcement of this legislation."

"So we urge you to use the full extent of your influence to eliminate from the American scene, the repugnant, intolerable discriminations which Negroes and other minority groups have suffered for generations."

The telegram closed with a wish that peace and hope would be with the President and his loved ones, and with the prayer that the Almighty One would guide and strengthen him during the coming years.

It was signed by Emma Manning Carter, president of ACHR; and Aretha B. McKinley, director. The American Council on Human Rights represents 50,000 college women throughout the United States. It is an organization composed of a group of college and graduate sororities.

'I've Just Begun to Fight,' Faubus Says on Integration

BOBBY BLAND SIGNS NEW "DUKE" CONTRACT
PHILADELPHIA (ANP) — Bobby "Blue" Bland, op hit-maker or Don Robey's Duke label, signed with the company a new long-term contract in Philly this week. Dave Mark, sales promotion manager for the Duke-Peacock and Back Beat set up, made a flying trip East to get Bobby's signature on the new contract that will raise the popular star's earning up into the top bracket.

Bobby who is now riding high on his current hit "I'll Take Care Of You," just finished a successful engagement at the North-West Club in Philadelphia along with Junior Parker another Duke star.

LITTLE ROCK (ANP)—Gov. Orval Faubus said here last week that he doubted there would be any increase in the number of integrated schools in the state during 1960.

Nine school districts integrated during 1959, "But," Faubus added, "more and more people are becoming opposed to integrated schools. This has a tendency to convince segregationists that they are right."

He added that many persons who were on the borderline have now become convinced that racial segregation is the best thing. "The biggest question," he said, "is whether we are going to surrender to the federal government or keep on fighting enforced integration."

"I'm like John Paul Jones," he added, "I've just begun to fight."

Postal Worker Retires After 36 Years of Service

MARK JONES
Mark E. Jones, 957 W. 25th, has announced his Dec. 31 retirement from the postal service after more than 36 years. He had worked continuously in the outboard section of the Indianapolis Post Office since he entered the service in 1923.

He is a member of the local branch of the National Federation of Post Office Clerks, the Indianapolis branch of the National Alliance of Postal Employees and the Indianapolis Allied Postal Council. Active at Barnes Methodist Church, Mr. Jones is a member of the Committee on Reserve Pension Fund of the Lexington Conference of his denomination.

After visiting relatives and friends in Tennessee, Michigan and Illinois, he plans to settle down and take it easy.

NAACP, SCLC Start Campaign To Enroll 1 Million Voters

ATLANTA—A coordinated cooperative south-wide drive to register an additional 1,000,000 Negro voters during the first 10 months of 1960 will be conducted by the NAACP executive secretary and Rev. Martin Luther King, SCLC president, announced this week.

Wilkins and Rev. King, two of the country's leading integrationists, made the announcement following an all-day conference of 23 representatives of the two organizations. During a news conference after the meeting, Mr. Wilkins explained the drive was an extension and acceleration of voter registration campaigns already initiated by the two organizations.

The meeting, Mr. Wilkins said, had been called by Dr. King and himself "to make plans for coordinating cooperative activity to raise the registration of Negro voters prior to the 1960 elections."

Dr. King told reporters that the two organizations had agreed to conduct "an intensified campaign throughout the South" designed to raise the present number of registered Negro voters from 1,400,000 to 2,500,000. This figure was selected as an attainable and realistic goal.

The campaign, Mr. Wilkins asserted, will be non-partisan and will be conducted on a neighborhood basis with door-to-door canvassing block by block. Neither organization, he said, attempts to tell voters for whom to cast their ballots. He expressed the anticipation that the new voters will support candidates with the best civil rights records.

The NAACP leader said that the campaign seeks to stimulate voting in local and state elections as well as in the national campaigns.

Alabama Leader Charges Deceit By Commissioner

BIRMINGHAM (AP)—Rev. F. L. Shuttlesworth, president of the Alabama Christian Movement of Human Rights, has charged that Public Safety Commissioner Eugene Connor has made "another pathetic attempt to deceive Negroes" by suggesting that Birmingham Transit Company drivers "have lawful authority to require passengers to follow their seating instructions."

Connor's statement was published in the metropolitan press and drew editorial support of the Birmingham News. Commissioner Connor in his published statement assailed the contents of a circular which carried the caption, "Negroes Can Now Sit Any Where on Busses."

SAID REV. SHUTTLESWORTH, "Commissioner Connor's statement on the buses is another pathetic attempt to deceive Negroes. Negroes will look upon it as being 'old bull wrapped in a new plea.' Negroes will ignore it, and ride in any seat they choose, for the recent ruling - which is the law of the case - says police have no legal right to direct seating because of color, and that a refusal to obey a request to move from the front to the rear of a bus is not a breach of the peace."

"A major fact of the 20th century is that many Negroes will move of second-class status, in spite of any efforts to keep them there - and that includes in Birmingham."

"Why didn't Mr. Connor threaten to arrest Negroes for riding desegregated? It is because he knows that both the bus company and he are powerless to stop them. In fact, they are as powerless as a bound dog with his teeth extracted. Neither should the commissioner think he can fool Negroes by his use of the words 'dangerous, violence, and stirring up trouble'."

"In olden days, the contest for justice and righteousness was between God and Ball; today it is between God and Eugene Connor."

'White Fathers' Turn Ghana Diocese Over To African Clergy

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Reflecting the progress of the native clergy in Africa, the White Fathers of Africa have turned over the ninth African diocese in 20 years for administration by the African hierarchy and clergy.

Rev. J. Alfred Richard, W.F. S. provincial, of the White Fathers, said that turning over the diocese of Wa in Ghana, which the White Fathers formerly administered, "marks another milestone in the progress of the African church."

The first diocese turned over to native clergy by the White Fathers was the diocese of Masaka in Uganda. The turnover occurred in 1939 when Bishop Joseph Kiwanuka of Masaka became the first African bishop of modern times.

Rights Legislation to Govern Negro Vote, Roy Wilkins Says

NEW YORK—Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the NAACP, speaking here recently at the 50th annual meeting of the organization envisioned both major political parties facing a test on civil rights. "The judgement of great numbers of Negro voters next November undoubtedly will rest on what the Republican and Democratic parties do, fail to do, on civil rights legislation, with special emphasis upon protecting the right to vote and upon school desegregation," Mr. Wilkins observed.

"The overriding issue during the decade (1950-60)," he asserted, "was desegregation of public education. The ruling of the United States Supreme Court on May 17, 1954, that racial segregation in the public schools is unconstitutional marked a turning point in the long struggle of Negro Americans to overturn the iniquitous 'separate but equal' doctrine," he noted.

The decade opened, he recalled, with the NAACP-initiated Emergency Civil Rights Mobilization which brought nearly 4,500 delegates to Washington representing 60 national organizations in January, 1950.

THE CIVIL RIGHTS legislation they sought, Mr. Wilkins pointed out, failed of enactment "as did all civil rights bills until the 1957 version, but the issue became—and has remained—a dominant one in the party politics of the nation."

Again, as 10 years ago, he said, "a civil rights bill is before the Congress and no party can afford to ignore the issue. No candidate who hopes for nomination can ignore the issue. A significant index of the importance attained by this question during the past decade may be found in the effort of his supporters to paint a Texas senator-candidate as a deviate from the traditional southern position on civil rights."

Referring to the reported effort to enlist the aid of former President Harry S. Truman in support of the candidacy of Senator Lyndon Johnson, Mr. Wilkins noted that Mr. Truman's assistance was being sought because of the reluctance of northern Democratic leaders to support the Texas senator.

"The Democratic leaders in the big urban centers in the North realize the importance of the Negro vote," Mr. Wilkins asserted.

"They have good reason to doubt that Negro voters will support Senator Johnson or anyone with his background and record, despite their high regard for Mr. Truman. The real test will be whether or not Senator Johnson, as majority leader, can get any meaningful civil rights legislation through Congress this session," the NAACP leader declared.

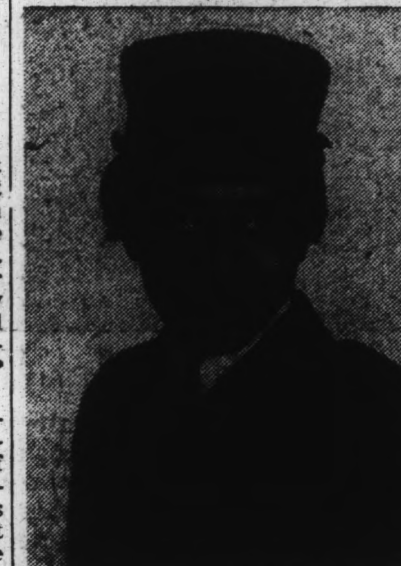

Mr. Wilkins also expressed concern that Washington reports indicated disinterest on the part of President Eisenhower in the proposal to appoint federal registrars to protect southern Negroes' right to vote. It was reported that the President was standing pat on the Administration's 1959 civil rights program. Surely, Mr. Wilkins said, the President cannot feel that efforts to assure American citizens of the right to vote are too radical.

Other highlights of the decade cited by Mr. Wilkins included the growing strength and flexibility of the Negro vote; the 1950 Supreme Court decision banning exclusion of Negroes from tax-supported universities; the courage of southern Negroes in pursuit of civil rights despite intimidations, threats and reprisals; and the persistence of the lynching evil in the State of Mississippi.

AMEs to Honor Church Founder

WASHINGTON, D.C. (AP)—The planning committee, in charge of arrangements for the 200th anniversary celebration of the birth of Richard Allen, founder of the AME Church, met here Wednesday, at the call of Bishop Sherman L. Greene, committee chairman.

A steering committee of 25 church leaders, associated with a group of prominent AME laymen, have formed the Richard Allen Foundation, purpose of which is to present a motion picture film, based on the life and work of Richard Allen, "a man in search of freedom."

Hollywood producers are being engaged for the film production and Etta Moten-Barnett, concert artist and star of TV and radio, will assist with the direction. Dr. Russell S. Brown, secretary of the church board, will act as consultant.

ADVANCE REPORTS indicate the film will be similar to the "Sign of the Hawk," and the premiere of the Allen epic will be a feature of the $25-a-plate dinner at the AME General Conference in May, 1960 as Los Angeles. More than 1,000 delegates and visitors are expected to attend the big event.

Officials of the Richard Allen Foundation, sponsors of the film, include E. A. Selby, Nashville, president; Dr. J. L. Leach, Flint, Mich., secretary; Dr. R. W. Mance, Washington, D.C., treasurer. Co-operating laymen include A. L. Lewis, board chairman, Afro-American Life Insurance company, Jacksonville, Fla., and A. G. Gaston, prominent businessman of Birmingham, Ala.

A Memorial Service commemorating the Richard Allen Bicentennial, will be held Feb. 14, in Philadelphia, Allen's birthplace. Dr. George A. Singleton of Philadelphia is secretary of the celebration. Bishop David H. Sims, is program chairman; Bishop George W. Baber, Host Bishop and the Rev. John Bright, pastor Mother Bethel AME Church, Host pastor.

Postal Union President Asks Members to Support UNCF

WASHINGTON, D.C.—President James B. Cobb of the National Alliance of Postal Employees has requested the 122 alliance branches to support the United Negro College Fund.

In his letter to branch presidents, Mr. Cobb stressed the importance of the role of the private Negro college in raising the achievement levels of the Negro people and in the expansion of their economic and social horizons. "The college fund assumes the responsibility of providing 10 percent of the educational budgets of 33 member colleges and universities," President Cobb said. "More than 24,000 students are now attending these privately supported, accredited institutions. Most of them come from low or middle-income families."

"They could not meet the financial requirements of the colleges of the North." The money raised by the fund each year enables member schools to keep their tuition fees low while maintaining the high standards necessary to give their students a first-class college education.

Voice of the Eastside

By MARY P. MCGUIRE

"Our freedom, but how free are we? What is it that makes us free? No man can feel completely free until all bars are let down. We must not lose hope, we must keep going." This is but a part of the wonderful address made by Dr. John W. Williams, pastor of St. Stephen Baptist Church in Kansas City at the 97th Emancipation Day Celebration held Friday, Jan. 1 at the Shiloh Baptist Church.

Dr. Williams was very much impressed with Dr. F. F. Young and Rev. G. L. Lillard. Dr. C. Henry Bell, pastor of Mt. Paran Baptist Church introduced Dr. Williams and the choir of the Mt. Moriah Baptist Church rendered selections with Mr. James Moore, directing. A singing group from Antioch Baptist Church and the Bethesda Male Chorus sang. They were accompanied by Mesdames Glenda Barnes and Blossom Jones.

Rev. James Cummings, pastor of Trinity CME Church read the Emancipation Proclamation. Users were present from various churches. Committee chairmen were Rev. William R. Hughey, Rev. J. W. Crockett, Rev. H. L. Burton, Rev. J. T. Higginbotham Sr., E. H. Adams, Rev. G. M. Mims, and Dr. Benjamin Davis and Dr. Edwin Kenner.

This Emancipation Day celebration was sponsored by the Baptist Ministers Alliance of Indianapolis and vicinity, Interdenominational Ministers Alliance. As principal speaker for the Home and School meeting of the Seventh-day Adventist Church last Sunday, your ole scribe picked up much information from the pastor, Rev. M. C. VanPutten. Mrs. Lizzie Mae Strange served as Mistress of Ceremony, introducing the president, Mrs. Lorene Moreland.

The program included a Flag Ceremony, Path Finders, National Anthem, prayer, music and the order of business. James Mosely directed the Youth Choir. The past president of the PTA, Mrs. Charlesetta Carrington, was introduced, as was Mrs. Rosa Turner, George W. Moreland, and Howard Connell, husband of your scribe.

Before leaving, I was approached by Harold Simpson, who was very interested in my message. He asked me to help him get them a good basketball coach. The boys here at the Seventh Day Adventist Church know the game but they are in need of a coach. You may call this young man at WA. 3-6573.

Speaking of young men, Rev. George Edelen served well at the funeral service of Robert Dyer held sponsored annually by the local chapter of Gamma Phi Delta Sorority, of which Mrs. Mildred Porter is basilus. (Recorder photo by Jim Burres)

Baha'is To Observe World Religion Day

World Religion Day will be observed by the Baha'is of Indianapolis on Sunday, January 17 at 2:30 P. M. at the World War Memorial, North-West room. Miss Flora Emily Hottes of Urbana, Illinois will speak on "Can the Religions Unite?" Miss Hottes has traveled widely throughout this continent. She has made numerous journeys throughout Central and South America and has lived at various times in Bolivia, Uruguay and Mexico. Miss Hottes is a graduate of the University of Illinois and also a holder of a bachelor of library science degree. She is active at present as a member of the European teaching Committee and the National Library Service Committee for the Baha'is of the United States.

The purpose of World Religion Day is to spread the knowledge of the fundamental oneness of religion as proclaimed by the Founder of the Baha'is Faith some 100 years ago.

Recognition of this oneness, Dr. Hormoz Broumand, chairman, says, supplies the basis on which not only the various denominations in Christianity can agree and unite, but also Judaism, Islam and the other revealed religions.

The strife between religions, Dr. Broumand concludes arises from misunderstanding. If we investigate the religions with an open and unbiased mind we will find they agree, for the fundamental reality of them is one and not multiple. It is by this means that the religionists of the world will reach their point of unity and reconciliation.

World Religion Day was initiated in 1950 by the National Spiritual Assembly of the Baha'is of the United States.

CHURCH EVENTS . . . of the City
By WILLA THOMAS

Those of us who have been blessed to see this new year have much for which to be thankful to God. Why not try real hard to do more for Him this year than you did last year?

NOW IS THE TIME to play for your Youth Week services. Next week, I will give a list of students and some of the young men in our churches who will be willing to come to your church and share in this wonderful fellowship.

I would like, also, to have a complete outline of your program by the third week of this month.

MRS. CHARLENE WILLIAMS, former superintendent of the church school of First Baptist Church, North Indianapolis, was presented with a love token by the school on Sunday.

A beautiful gown was presented by Mrs. Lillian Warfield, and a gift of appreciation was presented from her class by Miss Carolyn Quarles.

Mrs. Williams was a wonderful superintendent for seven years, and we hate to lose her. She continues to serve the church school under the new leader, V. C. Jones Jr.

Miss Doris Campbell of the same Sunday school was also presented an appreciation award. She did not miss a single Sunday during the past year.

She is to be commended along with her parents, who saw to it that she was there every Sunday.

THE SUNDAY BROADCAST of 17th Street Memorial Baptist Church, where Rev. W. M. Edwards is pastor, has been changed to 7:30 a. m. over Radio Station WISH.

Rev. A. J. Brown, pastor of Greater St. John Baptist Church, was guest speaker last Sunday. His choir sang.

THE NATIONAL COUNCIL of Churches will sponsor a conference for directors and ministers of Christian education Feb. 12-18 in St. Louis.

ATTENTION, PASTORS of the city. I hope you will plan to attend the pastors' conference set for Feb. 9 at Methodist Hospital. Guest speaker will be Oranger Westberg of the University of Chicago.

THE CHURCHES OF GOD will soon begin a two-month worldwide mission study program among local congregations.

WORD COMES from the Panama Canal Zone of the passing of Mrs. Bessie Thornbourn, who for 48 years represented the National Baptist Convention of America there.

REV. L. ABRAHAM of South India was guest speaker last Sunday morning at the Church of Christ Holiness on Edgemont. A dedicated Christian, he has done much for the spreading of the Word of God in India.

He will be here for a few more days and will be available for speaking engagements.

I AM SORRY to have missed the travelogue given Sunday at Witherspoon United Presbyterian Church by Rev. Clinton M. Marsh, pastor. I hear it was very good.

WE ARE IN NEED of men who will "adopt" some man at Central State Hospital. If you can share in this program, please send me your name and address.

OUR MINISTER, Elder F. F. Young was guest speaker, Sunday at Shiloh Baptist Church. He was supported by singing groups from First Baptist Church, North Indianapolis, where he is pastor.

I WOULD LIKE to hear from more churches this year. I can use any news from your church except advance publicity on a money-making project. Do let me hear from you.

MAY GOD BLESS YOU all this new year. I hope to see you all in church.

VA Says War Widows May Be Eligible For GI Loan

A reminder that the widow of a World War II or of a Korean-Conflict veteran may be eligible for a GI loan if the veteran's death was service-connected was issued by the Veterans Administration.

Furthermore, VA said the fact that the deceased veterans might already have obtained a GI loan does not effect the widow's eligibility for one.

However, if the widow herself is an eligible veteran, she accrues no additional GI loan rights because of her husband's death.

GI loan applications from such widows of World War II veterans must be filed by July 25, 1960. Korean-Conflict eligibility extends to Feb. 1, 1965.

Kansas City Minister Guest At Emancipation Day Service

"Our Freedom" was the subject of a talk by Dr. John W. Williams, pastor of St. Stephen's Baptist Church of Kansas City, Mo., who was guest speaker last Friday at the 97th annual Emancipation Day services held at Antioch Baptist Church.

In his address to an audience of 900 persons, the world traveler told of how he, members of his church and Negro citizens walked the streets in Kansas City because the downtown stores refused the Negro the right to eat in their stores where they would accept their money for other goods.

"If they could not accept our money for food, then our money was too good to buy other things," the renowned clergyman recollected. "We walked until all of the stores threw open their doors to our people."

To the audience he put this question: How free are we? "We as a group of people talk about freedom but we don't really know what it means," he asserted. "Freedom is something that God respects. This was demonstrated when man was placed in the garden of Eden."

"God gave Adam the freedom to choose, therefore, freedom is God given. Every rational being wants freedom; the newspaper reporters, radio and television news commentators want freedom of access to facts, the news."

Catholic Schools Urged To 'Seek Out Negro Children'

ST. LOUIS—An official of a Catholic Interracial Council has urged here that Catholic schools across the country "seek out and accept Negro children."

The plea was made at a communion breakfast of the St. Louis council by Matthew Ahman, assistant director of the Chicago council. The St. Louis and Chicago councils are two of 39 such Catholic groups in the United States, including one in Indianapolis.

In addition to schools, Mr. Ahman urged Catholics to promote interracial justice in lay organizations and in the field of housing.

"Many of our cities," he said of the housing problem, "are becoming increasingly non-white in population, while all-white, racially exclusive suburbs grow around them."

"This is an intolerable situation which we must not allow to become an American pattern."

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months.

In fact, results were so convincing that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution.

Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body. This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H.

Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment.

Preparation H is sold at all drug counters. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Chatting with the FAC

By ELSA JACKSON

The Federation of Associated Clubs will hold its first regular meeting of the new year Monday, Jan. 11, at 8. FAC president, S. W. James, through this column, is making a special appeal to all affiliated groups to see that their representatives are present and on time.

It is of the utmost importance that each individual know, first hand, the program and workings of the organization. At the meeting the board of directors will present an interesting report of a tentative year's program. You may want to cast your vote for or against the recommended proposals. This is your privilege. Perhaps you can offer constructive advice.

MEMBERS, WIVES AND SWEET-HEARTS of the Twelve-Mo Club enjoyed a very fine Christmas party Dec. 27 at the Household of Ruth Hall. Games, prizes, refreshments and exchanging of gifts were enjoyed by all.

CARNATION COOKING HINTS

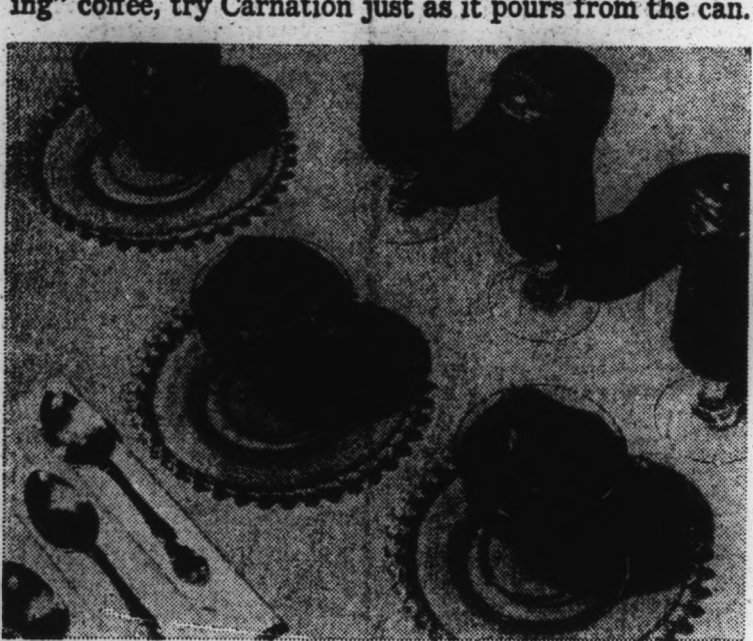

By Mary Blake

HOME SERVICE DIRECTOR AND HER STAFF

ROSALIE SCOTT

If it's an easy, pretty-enough-for-a-party dessert you're looking for, try this one for Bing Cherry Dessert. It's made with double-rich Carnation, the milk that whips! Carnation Evaporated Milk is concentrated to the texture of expensive cream, but costs only about one-third as much. Smooth Carnation brings out all the good flavor of either fresh or canned fruit. Just think of the variations that are possible by just changing the kind of fruit you use. Let your family choose the flavors. For "creaming" coffee, try Carnation just as it pours from the can.

BING CHERRY DESSERT

(Makes 8 to 10 servings)

2 cups dark sweet pitted cherries
1 package cherry-flavored gelatin
Cherry syrup plus water to make 1 cup
1/2 cup marshmallow whip
1/2 cup chopped nuts
1 cup undiluted CARNATION EVAPORATED MILK
2 tablespoons lemon juice

Cut cherries in half. Dissolve gelatin in boiling syrup-water mixture. Blend in marshmallow whip. Add the cherries and nuts. Chill until consistency of unbeaten egg white. Chill Carnation in refrigerator tray until icy around edges (10 to 15 minutes). Whip until stiff (about 1 minute). Add the lemon juice. Whip very stiff (about 2 minutes longer). Fold into gelatin mixture. Spoon into sherbet glasses. Chill about 2 hours.

"MOMMY MADE IT... SHE'S ONE OF THE SEW-YOUR-OWN SET"

by Evelyn Cunningham

A mother's good taste in clothes is reflected in what her children wear. Point out a well-groomed woman and it's safe to wager that her young son or daughter is as impeccably garbed.

But even the most well-intentioned, tasteful mother faces a stumbling block in the high cost of children's wearing apparel. The cry of mothers all over is the comparative price of their dress and their daughter's dress. Too often the difference is slim. In addition, there is the inevitable growth of a child, making it almost impossible for him or her to wear a garment more than one season.

The answer, of course, is to be found in home sewing. This is as easily done as said. The woman who insists, "...but I can't sew! I've never made a thing in my life," is in for a wonderful adventure, once she makes up her mind that she is going to do her own sewing. The pressures of economic necessity can no doubt make her more determined.

Half the fun is selecting the pattern and fabric. This unfamiliar freedom of choice in clothes is a stimulating experience and heightens the enthusiasm of the most reluctant sewer. Here she has the chance to combine her daughter's best color, the most flattering style and the most adaptable fabric. She can forget about trudging through stores, finding the style but not the size, or the color but not the price. Best of all, she can feel a heart-warming pride when her daughter twirls about squealing, "My mommy made my dress!"

The little dresses pictured here are two of three versions contained in the same pattern envelope. (Child's dress, McCall's Pattern No. 5084; girl's dress, McCall's Pattern No. 5085).

The child's dress has a three-gored gathered skirt and set-in sleeves. It buttons down the front from neck to hem and has puff sleeves gathered at the shoulders into bands. Lace and rick rack trimming run down the front and edge the sleeves. A tie belt circles the waistline.

Among fabric choices for this dress are printed cottons, poplin, cotton broadcloth, calico or challis. Contrasting or matching trim may be used.

The bigger girl's dress also has a full, three-gored gathered skirt and set-in sleeves. A delightful addition is the snug weskit. The dress buttons at the back and has elastic in the lace-trimmed sleeves. As shown here, the skirt is made of a red-green-yellow plaid wool, the bodice is of white broadcloth and the weskit is a dark green velvet with-pearl buttons. When the dress is made in cotton, the weskit may be of pique or linen.

The third version of this pattern has a buttoned band on the bodice, with contrasting collar and cuffs. A tie belt is attached at the front.

Fashion-Sewing Weekly Tip: The measurement across a child's breast — not the child's age — is used to determine pattern size, because children the same age vary greatly in height and girth.

Front and center attraction of this child's dress... lots of lace and babyrick rack circling the sleeves and neckline, parading down the bodice. Full, short sleeves set into the fitted bodice... full, short skirt joins the bodice at a bow-belted waist. This is only one charming view of the preschool, school age dress. Child's sizes 1-6. McCall's Pattern #5084. 50¢.

Here is the older girl's dress made from the same triple-viewed pattern. This version assumes the air of a jumper with its added double-breasted weskit. The bodice is back-buttoned and edged in lace trim. The third version of this child's and girl's sized pattern takes three quarter sleeves and a contrast collar. Girls' sizes 7-14. McCall's Pattern #5085. 50¢.

Hulan Jack's Fate in Hands Of Grand Jury

By ALBERT ANDERSON
For Associated Negro Press
NEW YORK, N.Y.—The fate of Hulan E. Jack, president of the Borough of Manhattan, was being weighed last week by a New York County grand jury which heard him deny charges of misconduct and it was hinted in some quarters that the investigation may be broadened.

Jack was ordered by the jury to bring in the records of his office, but his lawyers didn't say if the records were wanted in connection with the bribe charges made against Jack.

THE GRAND JURY was probing charges that Jack, a Negro holding the highest elective administrative position ever won by a Negro in this country, permitted a wealthy real estate operator to pay a $5,500 bill for renovating his Harlem apartment while the real estate operator was seeking approval of the Board of Estimates as sponsor of a $28,000,000 slum clearance project.

Jack is a member of the board which is the city's supreme governing body.

Both the real estate operator Sidney J. Ungar and Jack have vociferously denied that payment of the $5,500 bill was intended as a bribe to influence a vote. Both contend it was a "gentleman's agreement" loan made between two old friends.

UNGAR AND JACK have been friends for years and Ungar at one time was Jack's campaign manager. At the two sessions when the board acted on Ungar, Jack voted against approving him.

While the city awaited the outcome, almost every important Harlem leader including many of Jack's political foes, came to his defense. While they agreed he may have been thoughtless and the victim of poor judgment, they declared that no criminal intent was involved.

In fact those seeking to defend Jack, charged that the matter was a political plot designed to discredit Jack because of his race.

The New York Times in an editorial took Jackson's Harlem defenders to task for charging that race was an issue in the investigation.

SAID THE TIMES: "The Harlem community leaders who so recklessly went on the offensive in extension of the Manhattan Borough president's conduct do Mr. Jack's cause a disservice. Mr. Jack is not a victim of persecution because of color."

Skilled Labor Shortage

A substantial increase in the Negro segment of the nation's job seekers during the next 10 years and a concurrent shortage of trained Negro workers, particularly in the white-collar field, were pictured in the annual report of presidential committee released recently by the White House.

The report, submitted to the President by Vice-President Nixon, committee chairman, cited Department of Labor projections for the 1960s to point up serious problems which will confront Negroes during that period in their efforts to compete for employment with the white labor force.

"Since we will have to depend upon every young as well as older worker, the problems of vocational guidance, of training and re-training are of paramount importance," the report asserted. "Our non-white population increased more rapidly between 1940 and 1950 than our white population (22 percent to 14 percent). Census estimates on the composition of our labor force in 1958 show a very high proportion of Negro men under 20 and over 45. Further, Negro women of all ages have a higher rate of participation in the labor force. If these trends continue, there will clearly be a substantial increase in our non-white labor force. This increase will be concentrated in the young and older Negro worker groups, both male and female.

"Employers who will still be looking for male, white, under-45 workers will be in trouble in the next decade. These types of workers simply will not be available in the numbers required."

Nixon pointed out that these estimates do not have to become established statistics. Just as projections of a decade ago with regard to deaths this year from any number of diseases have been greatly reduced by advances in the skills and resources of medical science, today's pessimistic estimates with respect to the availability of trained Negro workers during the next decade can be reduced through education and training.

The challenge of the report is both clear and unavoidable. We must underscore the importance of education and training for our youngsters. Increased efforts must be made to help Negro parents keep their children in school so that they can compete more effectively in the labor market. Educators, vocational guidance counselors and employers must see that Negro youth have the opportunity for the kind of training that will prepare them for the types of jobs which we know will call for the greatest numbers of workers during the next 10 years.

A Tribute to Treason

(FROM THE NORFOLK JOURNAL AND GUIDE)

Mr. Walter Williams of Texas, who had gained the recognition of being the only surviving soldier of the Confederacy, passed away the other day at Houston. The last surviving Federal Civil War soldier succumbed several years ago.

We have always been among those who recognized that the fighting men of the Confederacy, including their general and subordinate officers, were soldiers of great courage and valor and were top-ranking strategists. We believe that is generally recognized. Few, however, of the present times were prepared for the height, breadth and depth of the eulogies paid Mr. Williams and, through him, a nationwide protestation that only the Confederacy was morally right.

We read many editorial eulogies in papers from Boston to New Orleans which took occasion to use the passing of the last Confederate soldier to eulogize the insurrectionists.

After reading the emotion-dripping praise of the Confederacy from a dozen sources, North and South, we wondered which ideology of government we live under in these United States: that of the early 19th century South or of the mid-19th century North.

If one could have brought together the best music of the centuries past, the best poetry, the best paintings, the best oratory and the best philosophical essays and could have blended them into one grand crescendo, it would not have equalled in volume and artistry the tributes paid the Confederacy through the incidence of Mr. Williams' death at age 117.

We think that one of the most thought-provoking comments on this phenomenon was contained in an editorial in the New York Times, from which we quote the opening and closing paragraphs:

"We are probably the only nation on earth that would declare three days of mourning for a man whose proudest boast it was that he fought against the flag that is now being flown at half-mast in his memory over every United States ship, post and building in the entire world.

"But they are all mustered out now, those who went sadly home from Appomattox and those who marched three days in Grand Review in Washington after Lee's surrender. The bugle sounds taps for Walter Williams — and for the glory and the horror of the ancient war which this week, records or no records, he symbolizes."

If one could feel that this was the end of emotional defenses of a Civil War over slavery, it would be reassuring. But plans have been made for a four-year-long nationwide centennial celebration and re-enactment of the 1861-65 unpleasantness, the military phases of which the North won, but the ideological aspects of which the South won.

Virginia's next legislature will be asked to appropriate a million dollars for the erection of a shrine close to the site of the old Confederate capitol in Richmond. That amount will be taken away from education for the future and expended on education to undergrid the South's idea of states' rights.

As for Mr. Eisenhower, the capital of the United States is in Georgia, and the politics and public opinion and the personalities which dictate his thinking are below the Mason-Dixon line. General Persons, his assistant president, is the embodiment of them.

Negro Press Creed. The Negro Press believes that the United States of America can best lead the world away from racial and national antagonism when it accords every man, regardless of race, color or creed, his human and legal rights. Hating no man, fearing no man, the Negro Press strives to help every man in the firm belief that all are hurt so long as any one is held back.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Strengthening New Churches

By The Union Baptist Alliance

REV. J. T. HIGHBAUGH, Editor

(LARGE LESSON: Acts 14. PRINTED TEXT: Acts 14:19-28. MEMORY VERSE: II Thessalonians 3:5.) Paul in his message to the Romans said, "I am debtor to the Greeks and the barbarians." (Romans 1:14) If you had time to read Galatians, you'd learn how fickle and how much a prey these poor Gauls were.

THE ESTABLISHMENT OF CHURCHES (Acts 14:1-20). Paul and Barnabas followed their previous custom of visiting the synagogue and, by conversation and interpretation, they opened a preaching and teaching mission wherever they could. That is, they found the best point of agreement, then reasoned out the gospel of grace to all men.

In Matthew 10, they were told when they were not accepted in one city to flee to the next. Though Paul left Iconium overnight, it seemed when he returned a church had been established there.

It seemed the persecution he experienced there was a rallying point to build a church. The healing of the impotent man stirred the highly emotional people of Lystra to fever heat. They called Barnabas and Paul gods and would do sacrifice to them. But the apostles restrained them.

However, on the coming of the Jews from Iconium, those same Lystrians joined together to stone Paul. But around Pauls near-dead body, a church was formed out of which came Timothy, one of his faithful aids in his second and third missionary journeys.

The opening wedge of the spread of the gospel is the establishment of churches.

In the 1949 foreign and home missionary report, it was stated that the average becomes self-perpetuating in about seven years and in about 20 years, a convention would grow up among the established churches and send out missionaries to further the spread of the good news.

THE STRENGTHENING OF CHURCHES (Acts 14:21-25). As they turned their faces eastward, they went boldly into the same place and strengthened the feeble faith that was there. They did so by the following methods:

1. Great preaching. Preaching is the method of spreading the good news to the shifting and slightly concerned mind. It raises up hope for the wandering mind.

2. Teaching. Teaching requires three things: a person who seeks knowledge, a teacher who can impart it and a body of knowledge to be imparted.

3. Ordaining. The believers elected elders in their churches and the apostles set them apart to the work for which they were chosen.

4. Praying. Nothing helps a church more than a prayer band, for the church that prays together stays together.

5. Supporting. Read the biblical plan of church support in I Corinthians 16:1,2. Isn't it plain and explicit? (a) Each one of you, children, old folks, father, mother, all, (b) "Lay by in store" and make advance provision. (c) As God has prospered him in proportion to his income, Malachi 3:10. (d) On the first day of week as regularly as the week comes. (e) That there be no talking when He comes: no deficits. How much our churches all over the world need this strengthening.

REPORT TIME (Acts 14:26-28) How glad they were to get back to Antioch of Syria. And how very, very long they of Antioch had waited and prayed.

But listen to this great report. Maybe the first part carried a sad note. We lost John Mark, who went back to Jerusalem. Yes, we had some opposition from the Jews, and a sorcerer kept trying to block our work. But the proconsul believed anyhow, and we passed on.

"Oh, yes," said Paul, "I must not let slip telling of the healing of the lame man. Why he leaped and ran and praised the Lord. Yes, they threw a few stones at me and I was knocked out for dead, but amidst my misery I opened my eyes and saw the disciples still with me.

"It was so encouraging! I met a great family; a young man named Timothy, his mother Eunice and his grandfather Lois.

"I want him as a helper if I go that way again. He is a gifted young man. And they are a faithful family of the Lord."

History to Depict Ike As Monster Reader Predicts

To the Editor:

President Eisenhower owes his rise to power to the will of the people as expressed at the polls. If the President's uncalculated interference in the internal affairs of other little independent countries should force Premier Khrushchev to take up arms in defense of those countries' cherished rights, the people of this country will have nobody to blame but themselves.

He would be a shrewd character who could find any defense for President Eisenhower's efforts at dictating the internal affairs of other independent countries. President Eisenhower may be a very gifted individual, but I doubt if he is a real genius.

President Eisenhower shows no regard for the rights of other independent countries. I believe that history will picture him as one of the greatest monsters of all ages. And I further believe that President Eisenhower would not hesitate about declaring a war if he thought it would help his party's chances.

VERSES

Another year brings hope again
Of peace and goodwill for all men,
Of hate replaced by love's rebirth,
Of justice's reign upon an earth
Where all men shall be free.

Perhaps this year will be the one
When strife of race with race is done,
When we all work for brotherhood,
When self subserves the common good—
When all men shall be free.

1960 could, perchance,
Our dearest hopes and dreams enhance
If all mankind, both far and near,
Strive that this might be the year
When all men shall be free.

O, God, from Whom all blessings flow,
Have mercy on us here below,
Replace our hate with selfless love
As in Thy realm in Heaven above,
Make all Thy creatures free!

VOICE FROM THE GALLERY

Assembly-Line Martin Luther Kings

By Andrew W. Ramsey

RAMSEY

Not only did the courageous and able leader of the Montgomery boycott fire the imaginations of the freedom loving people of the United States and the world, but Rev. Martin Luther King has caused an apparent revolution among the Negro gentlemen of the cloth.

Ever since the remarkable Rev. King catapulted to fame via the civil rights fight there has been a mad rush of Negro clerics to identify themselves with the struggle which they formerly ignored as they preached Sunday after Sunday on the inspirational subject of a pillow of cloud by day and a pillow of fire by night.

A LARGE NUMBER of these divines have simply found the courage which they formerly lacked and have sincerely joined in the fight to make America truly democratic. A perhaps lesser number has always been in there fighting the battle without thought of glory or prestige. But lately it has become very fashionable for Negro preachers to identify themselves with the NAACP whereas less than ten years ago it was difficult for a spokesman for the civil rights organization to make an announcement in their churches.

There can be no quarrel with those who have had a genuine change of heart and are now willing to use their powers of persuasion and their time to advance the cause of equal justice and Christian decency in our troubled nation.

It is necessary, however, to recognize that there are those among the sepiu clergy who would use the NAACP to advance their own self interests.

Their number is few but the mischief that they might do is tremendous.

IT IS NECESSARY to point out a few danger points to those, who in their zeal to get into the act, violate the tenets of Christian ethics or NAACP rules and practices.

For example, in the recent anschuss of the local NAACP by the organized ministers of our city certain principles foreign to both the ministerial alliances and to the NAACP were introduced.

First of all, the NAACP constitution expressly forbids branches from coming under the domination of any organized outside groups political, religious, fraternal or labor, and secondly, it is an innovation for ministerial alliances to attempt to dictate the election of officers in other organizations.

So when the Interdenominational Ministerial Alliance openly endorsed a candidate for the presidency of the NAACP it created a dangerous precedent.

There is no doubt that the ministerial alliance would resent the NAACP, the Masons, the Democrats or the Republicans dictating the election of a president of the alliance or endorsing a candidate for Bishop or moderator of one of the denominations represented by the alliance members. Members of the alliance openly insulted lay members of the NAACP by suggesting arrogantly that only preachers have the leadership ability and devotion necessary for the presidency of the local branch.

THE MINISTERS also demonstrated a lack of the type of humility advocated by the Nazarene when they indicated that their members, in order to be of service, had to start at the top. They can be generals but never privates.

The prevailing attitude of the alliance was fortunately not unanimous but unfortunately those ministers who disagreed lacked intestinal fortitude to buck the tide and take a stand on principle.

The ministers who accomplished the coup are probably patting each other on the back oblivious of the fact that many lay members of the NAACP and of their several churches are taking their recent victory as their endorsement of the un-Christian philosophy that might makes right.

Many errors were made and many veteran NAACP workers crushed by the bulldozer crusade of the ministers to capture the NAACP leadership for Moses, but for the most part their mistakes were from the head and not from the heart.

THIS ARTICLE is in no way intended to imply that Rev. Burton will not make an excellent president of the NAACP, or that those who came with such religious zeal to put him in office will not do all in their power to see that Indianapolis has one of the largest and strongest branches of the civil rights group in the entire nation.

It does mean, however, that the machinery by which the feat was accomplished leaves much to be desired and leaves the ministry unexonerated from the charge of political chicanery.

What has been done by the ministers could be done by another outside group with completely ulterior motives.

The above observations are not sour grapes emanating from the unsuccessful candidate, but the cold observations of a columnist who is interested in the NAACP and in the revitalization of the Christian religion.

I wish to thank those who came out and supported my candidacy and ask their continued efforts and prayers for the work of the organization they love.

BETWEEN THE LINES

By Dean Gordon B. Hancock for ANP

Encouraging Rebellion

In passing on Walter Williams, the last of the Confederate rebels at an advanced age, gathers to his comrades, and peace to his ashes! He fought at the behest of his beloved South and for this no sane and reasonable soul will condemn him in death. He, and all his comrades, are more to be pitied than condemned.

And certainly no nobly inclined soul would want to see eternally perpetuated the breach in the nation, made by the War of Rebellion. Gestures of reconciliation should not come from the North alone, but from the North and South. Of course there is a segment of the South trying hard to heal the breach.

But currently the old South is again in all but open rebellion against the nation. What means all this display of Confederate flags everywhere down south, if it does not mean that the Old South is still in angry mood?

What means this abounding enthusiasm when the ebullient plays "Dixie" if it does not mean that at heart the Old South is still in rebellious mood? What means the current attempts to disparage and discredit the Supreme Court, if it does not mean that the Old South is still at war with the nation?

And if President Eisenhower thinks the South will in the least be placated by his soothing words, he does not know his stuff, and he does not know the South! Mr. Eisenhower discloses a supremely grave naïveté when he says: "The wounds of the deep and bitter dispute which once divided our nation, have long since been healed and a united America in a divided world now holds up on a larger canvas the cherished traditions of liberty and justice for all."

Healed since when? As a pleasing platitude what the President says sounds good; but as a means of placating the South over its loss of the War of Rebellion, it is a flat tire. The President does not know the South! The South is still fighting the war which studious historians of the South have succeeded in getting called the "War Between the States" instead of the War of Rebellion that it actually was.

The point being made here is there should be a difference between a man who fights to save his country and the man who fights to destroy it. There should be a difference in the honors paid them in their death or what else does patriotism mean?

Of course nobody could blame the President for wanting to make a fine gesture in the premise, but just whether or not his words were well chosen will be a matter of grave dispute.

THIS NATION in one way or another has made many such gestures as your President made, and without any tangible success. The Old South that fought at Gettysburg is still fighting now at Washington against the Supreme Court and Constitution.

One must be naïve indeed not to see the connections between the open rebellion against the nation and the open rebellion against the Supreme Court which the Old South is prosecuting with such vigor at the present time.

The Old South is still in rebellion whether Mr. Eisenhower knows, is or not.

GARY — Roosevelt did what Attucks didn't last week as the Panthers swept to their 4th straight city championship, clobbering Tolleston in the final game 90-48.

Louis "Bo" Mallard's speedy squad looked like Ray Crowe's and Bill Garrett's teams used to, as they rolled over Wirt and Wallace before crushing Tolleston in the meet at Memorial Auditorium.

The Panthers shot .522 in the championship tilt and owned both backboards. Smith pulled his regulars at the end of the 3rd quarter, with a 70-36 lead.

THE 90-POINT TOTAL was a new tournament record, eclipsing the 88 scored in 1957 by Roosevelt against Froebel.

Little Manny Newsome, the Panthers' 5-10 sharpshooting guard, hit 12-for-17 from the field and all 5 of his free throws for 29 points in the three periods he played.

Ajace Triplett, a 6-2 junior, scored 13 for the Panthers and 6-2 Arthur Jordan got 11.

TOLLESTON'S RUNNER-UPS also are a Negro team. They were paced by 6-4 Royal Wyatt, stellar rebounder who scored 14.

The fourth semifinalist, Froebel, is all tan except for two white substitutes, Norman S. Werry, sports director of the Gary Post-Tribune, wrote:

"THERE'S NO INTEGRATION PROBLEM IN GARY — a survey of holiday tourney rosters reveals that 39 of 80 players on the 8 high school rosters were Negroes — and the time is not too far in the future when Negroes will dominate rosters of Gary high schools in the annual holiday tourney — they're the better athletes."

Roosevelt also won the reserve tournament, romping over Horace Mann 49-24 in the finale.

ATTUCKS' STATE CHAMPIONS, who were ousted from the Indianapolis city tourney by Manual, will play Roosevelt in the same Memorial Auditorium on Saturday, Jan. 23.

The tournament will be held at Speedway Golf Course in conjunction with the 500-Mile Race. Single session tickets will total $20 for the week. Parks Director A. J. Thatcher pointed out:

Indian 'Blood Brothers' On Big Rasslin' Card

What is called the most sensational Indian tag team in the grunt-n'-groan profession, Cherokee Chief White Owl and his "blood brother," Yakki Joe, will be in action at the Armory on Tuesday when the Hoosier Boxing Club presents its next "Parade of Champions" wrestling card.

The Indian pair will compete in single matches rather than their customary tag team lineup. The opening bout at 8:15 will bring Yakki Joe in against the 305-pound giant from Sweden, The Krusher, in a one-fall, 30-minute bout.

Chief White Owl will be a busy man as he faces the Judo King of the Orient, Oyama Kato, in a 2-out-of-3-fall match, with a 45-minute time limit.

THERE WILL BE two tag-team matches on the card. No. 1 will bring Buddy "Nature Boy" Rogers and his partner, Ralph "Ruffy" Silverstein, to grips with "Handsome" Johnny Barrend and the alleged former Storm-Trooper, Fritz von Goering. This will be a one-hour, 2-out-of-3 falls bout. The other match will pit the bearded Russian brother team of

Wilt Crashes Pro All-Star Lineup

PHILADELPHIA (ANP)—Rookie Wilt Chamberlain received the third highest number of votes to win a place on the Eastern team in the 10th annual East-West pro basketball game scheduled for Jan. 22 here.

Philadelphia may even have been selected as the site of the game with an eye toward Chamberlain's appearance in his home town. He is a tremendous drawing-card here, where he played his high school basketball.

The Philadelphia Warriors' "Stilt" was named in the balloting by sports writers and sportscasters along with Bob Cousy of the Boston Celtics, Richie Guerin of the New York Knickerbockers, Paul Arizin, also of the Warriors, and Dolph Schayes of the Syracuse Nationals.

WILL THEY REPEAT? J.

Wilbert Sims of Chicago and Mrs. Florence Richardson of Columbus, O., were last year's winners in the NBA-Brunswick All-Star Classic.

They are hoping to repeat when the $5,700 bowling meet is held again at United Recreation in Cleveland, Feb. 7-14.

Former Coach Also Blasts Magazine Story

By CHARLES S. PRESTON

"No, Oscar isn't lazy or lackadaisical on defense," Ray Crowe told The Recorder this week.

"He gets the job done his own way — and the coach who knows him, lets him do it."

The comments by the Attucks athletic director, who was Oscar Robertson's coach during his high school career, came in answer to a widely-circulated newspaper article which aired the observations of Howard Hobson, chairman of the U. S. Olympic Basketball Committee.

Hobson formerly coached at Yale and Oregon, and was president of the National Association of Basketball Coaches. He is now a publishing house executive.

"That man may have coached 50 years ago," ventured Crowe — not scornfully, but in his quiet, thoughtful way.

THE INTERVIEW took place in the athletic office, where Crowe works surrounded by photos of his former stars and one of his pretty wife, Betty. Crowe and this reporter chuckled recalling the many past occasions newsmen have found "weaknesses" in the great Attucks teams.

"Oscar plays the same way in college he did in high school," Crowe noted. "He is able to analyze the situation and knows what he can do. For that reason, you don't harp on the things you do to an ordinary player, such as keeping ahead of the man you're guarding."

"I don't see him 'loafing back on defense,'" as Hobson said. "What he will do, many times he'll stay down and steal the ball — which more than makes up for not getting back down court. If he steals the ball and breaks up the game, isn't that better than getting back?"

"AS FOR LETTING his man get him and hit the basket — I believe Oscar is just suckering those guys. He lets his man get ahead of him and then he steals the pass."

For illustration Crowe recalled he closing seconds of the Attucks-Muncie Central game in the 1955 state tournament. Attucks had a 71-70 lead and Muncie had the ball out-of-bounds.

"Jim Hinds was Oscar's man and if you remember, he was down in the corner and Oscar was over near the center. For that reason they passed the ball to Hinds — and what happened?"

"Oscar had it figured just right. He came across and intercepted the pass, and there went Muncie's last chance." THE FORMER COACH said he hadn't noticed Robertson failing to guard in the first half of the Iowa game, as Hobson alleged. "Of course, it's just common sense to lighten up when you're loaded with fouls as Oscar was in the second half."

"As a coach I certainly wouldn't give him the toughest defensive assignment," Crowe continued. "Not because he couldn't handle it but because he's too valuable offensively."

At that point Willie Merriweather, Oscar's ex-teammate who now is teaching at Attucks, broke in impulsively:

"Why make him get real tired on defense so he can't shoot the ball? He more than makes up for it. If you play a tight defensive game, you get tired, keeping your arms up and all that!"

Crowe's eyes fell on a phrase about "the perfect player" in the newspaper story.

"WHO SAID HE was perfect?" the mentor demanded warmly. "Who's perfect in anything? Everybody makes mistakes — but where Oscar makes one, he'll make the opposition make a dozen."

"At Attucks we always figured the other team would do some scoring. We didn't let them, but we figured they would. Only we're going to get more shots than they do, and so we'll score more."

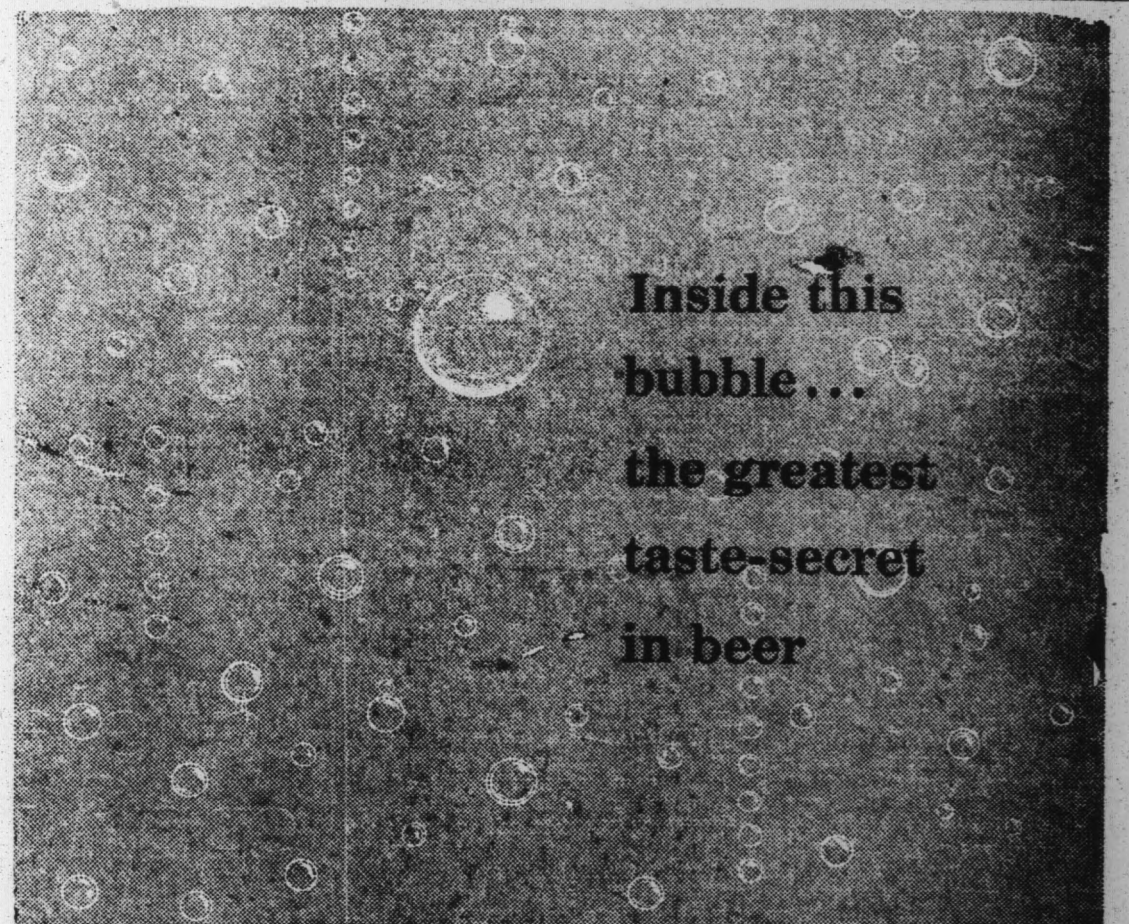

"I remember one night we played Shortridge, which as you know is always a fundamentally sound team," he recalled. "Well, the next morning all the statistics were in the paper, and they had beaten us in every department except scoring. We won by some 20 points."

THE GENTLEMANLY "Wizard of the '50s" took the opportunity to refute statements attributed to him in a recent Saturday Evening Post story.

WIZARD OF TUSKEGEE

George Washington Carver... died on Jan. 5, 1943... He was recognized as a scientific genius and humanitarian throughout the civilized world... Born a slave in Missouri in 1864, Carver is credited with more than one hundred and eighty-five products from the sweet potato (through agricultural research), nearly as many from the pecan, and at least one hundred and fifty from the peanut. He also developed blacking for shoes, all kinds of oils, base materials for mats, covers, cloth, and many other articles which are useful and usable to mankind. He was one of the greatest scientists in the world.

CARVER DAY was observed in 1948 with the issuance of a special United States postage stamp with his picture... and the United States Congress on July 14, 1953, declared his birthplace near Diamond Grove, Mo., as the George Washington Carver National Monument... A worthy tribute to Negro who was born a slave and rose to greatness.

MISS NEW YEAR of 1960 in Pittsburgh, Pa., was a baby girl born to Mrs. Carole Ann Alvarez, according to a news dispatch in Pittsburgh Post-Gazette... The little girl arrived at 12:02 a.m. at Magee Hospital in the Steel City. She is the daughter (first child) of Ismael Alvarez, who is stationed with the Air Force on two Jims.

THE REV. JAMES L. CUMMINGS has been named by Mayor Bowwell to the Zoning Board... This is a good step in the right direction... but we still say that there are plenty of jobs that should be given to young qualified Negroes in all departments of the city government.

TRAFFIC OFFICER JOHN METZGER, who has done a splendid job as traffic spokesman for the police department, is presently stationed at a downtown corner... WE WONDER WHY? Here's a competent officer with 20 years of service... and not yet a sergeant... Again we wonder WHY? He also had a radio spot for 4 years on WGEE... The schools will miss him!

OUR HAT IS OFF TO FRANK E. McKINNEY... The man who rose by his own bootstraps since 1935 to head the biggest bank in the state in 1959... and who was just named Man of the Year by a local daily... We came here in 1935, at which time Mr. McKinney had been elected Marion County treasurer... He was known and highly respected by such top Negro Democrats as Harry "Goose" Lee, Earl Clements, Rufus Martin, George Graham, Chris Fisher, Rube Paige, Henry (Hank) Lee, Mrs. Sue Knox, William (Bill) Walker, Sr., Bob Matthews, Atty. Edward Suber, Atty. Forrest Littlejohn, Wilbur Cuthrell, now living in Chicago, James E. Jones, and many others...

These were the beginning of the "Golden Years" for local Democrats and Boss Billy Clauer reigned supreme... All along the main stem and elsewhere over town, the talk among Negro top Demos here... Mr. Clauer and Mr. McKinney... the former has since retired but his protégé still carries on... and in a great BIG way. The writer's first major bank advertisement came thru him for the Fidelity bank... and we hope it continues as the years roll on.

NEW YEAR'S DAY TWINS... It was a real happy New Year for Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rutland, 1044 W. 25th St... and the double reason? They are the proud parents of twins... a boy and a girl born to Mrs. Rutland (the only set of twins) the first day in the New Year in Coleman Hospital.

NEW YEAR'S DAY TRAGEDY... The Baxter Terry family of four was killed in an auto accident on Meridian St. (U.S. 31) at 73rd St. Members of the family were: Mr. Terry, Mrs. Marjorie L. Terry, his wife, Darlene Terry, 2, their daughter, and Katherine Spivey, 9, Mrs. Terry's daughter by a previous marriage.

A YOUNG Negro woman's body was found (in the nude) dumped on a lonely road near Columbus, O. New Year's Day. It appeared the woman had been raped and beaten and pushed from a car.

according to Franklin County Sheriff Stacy Hall. The woman was described as between 18 and 22, and had a small letter "G" scratched or burned into her skin above the left knee.

A NEW YEAR'S EVE MISCEU... A Rome newspaper reported that a man in Pescara, Italy, following a New Year's Eve tradition of throwing out the window old pots and pans, bottles and rubbish at midnight, got so carried away that he threw his wife out the window, too. (How carried away can you get?)

HIAWATHA (life-trainer) Gray brought us a copy of the Louisville Courier-Journal which carried a picture of Mrs. Daisy Bates shaking hands with Governor Faubus of Arkansas in the column press Sunday at the Walker theater. Said the writer: "We, therefore, hasten to conclude that, had the handshaking episode been enacted at the beginning of the Little Rock story, barrels of printer's ink would have been spared by a free press. In America and elsewhere by reason of a climate of conciliation, such as the picture would seem to suggest." (Note: Indidentally, the Bateses are being pushed to the wall financially, and have ceased publication of their weekly newspaper... Any financial help sent them will be appreciated!)

"Dear Saint:
"Did you see the headlines in all the papers, and hear the death while his oil heater tank was full? Well maybe you didn't because it hasn't happened as yet. But it could have, if the temperature had dropped to below zero suddenly.

"It seems that a certain man was sitting in his chair asleep when he awakened chilled through; his fire had gone out. Going to his heater he examined it and found it was turned on in every way that had a tank full, full of water that is, did you ever think that water one day would cost 23 cents per gallon?

"Now this man buys his oil from a nearby service station whose name I will not mention just yet. Not until he has gone to the authorities about it.
"I remember the gas and oil war we had a few months back, every company was trying to corner the customers. Now it seems that they all are trying to see how much or which one can bilk the most customers. That brings me to this.

"We have fire inspectors, meat inspectors, house, health, and what have you inspectors? Why don't we have someone to see how much of practice? If so, where are these public spirited men who are in the taxpayers payroll? Are they taking payola? I'd just like to know.

ON THE LIGHTER SIDE... Since they took "liver" out of Carter's Little Liver Pills, we must settle for just Carter's Pills.

ANENT THE FUROR stirred up by some newspapers after the announcement of Sammy Davis Jr.'s marriage to a Canadian girl, who happens to be white, The Baltimore Afro-American said editorially: "A similar furor arose when Douglas and later Walter White consummated interracial marriages.

"Frederick Douglass' reply might have been with equal force to the same Davis case. Said Mr. Douglass: 'My forebears on my father's side were white and on my mother's side were colored. How can any reasonable person object if I marry into the race of my father or my mother?'

OUR HEARTFELT SYMPATHY to the Bell brothers, Richard, Hugh, Harold and Edward, whose sister Mrs. Marjorie Terry, and family were killed Saturday in an auto accident.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY to Arlene Manson (Arlene's House of Music), whose husband, Ullis, feted her with a fabulous party New Year's nite at the old Flamingo Club... It was a grand and glorious affair... lavishly topped with sumptuous viands... delicate and soothing libations... ample repartee... delightful and entertaining music by Duke Hampton and his orchestra... who kept the smartly attired guests in a jolly mood during the evening... Among the many guests enjoying the festivities were: Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Buckner (Alma), Daniel Mason, Howard Ellis, Robert Stone, Leroy (sporty) Johnson, Miss Arletta Vinson, Sam Gibbs, Gilbert Wayman, Leon Mallory, J. Frank Stanley and his spats, the Killebrews from Milwaukee, etc. Arlene was virtually showered with gifts from admiring friends.

BREEZING ALONG WITH THE NEWS... Wilbur Cuthrell motored in from Chicago for a visit with his sister during the holidays. A nice card came in from Donald Rhoades from Pittsburgh, Pa. Also one from the Rev. Leo Lesser from N. Y.

STOTEN SUMMERS is confined in Veterans Hospital on W. 10th St. His condition is satisfactory... Friends may write or visit him on Ward 3, West... Indidentally, we were just thinking of sending him and others a belated holiday card... So we use this means of expressing th egreetings of the New Year to Mr. and Mrs. Stoten Summers (Pearl), Mr. and Mrs. John Curry (Clara), Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Jones (Alia), and Bobby Summers and his mother, Roberta... and to Bill McClure and his sales staff at Crosstown Motors for a job well done in '59... and hopes for a better job in '60.

The Wasp Woman, Beast from Haunted Cave at Walker Sunday

Suspense and excitement with a constant overtone of imminent terror keynote THE WASP WOMAN and BEAST FROM HAUNTED CAVE, two new Filmgroup films combined in a double bill opening Sunday at the Walker theater. The twin shock program has added value because both pictures are concerned with the two age old questions: is there a possibility of finding The Fountain of Youth, and can there be any truth in the legends of ghosts, haunted caves and caverns?

THE WASP WOMAN reveals the search of a beautiful woman as she, panicked by approaching age, search frantically and finally drastically to find some method to preserve her youth, popularity and fame. The picture, produced and directed by Roger Corman, shows the inevitable and fatal chain of events that lead to horror and violence as the woman, head of a famous renowned cosmetic firm, tries to utilize modern scientific and medical developments as the key to open the door to the place where the intangible Fountain may reside.

We are all aware that there are things stranger than life itself as we know it, and Gene Corman, producer of BEAST FROM HAUNTED CAVE, has sought out and asked if there can be any truth to the idea that a gargantuan descendant — a monster — of the winged hanging fly still exists in the Badlands of the Dakotas. Mr. Corman actually used the famous haunted cave near Lead in South Dakota for the shooting location.

Packed with excitement, shock after shock, both pictures reach gripping tension as the exploration of those two ideas is revealed visually and dramatically on the screen.

Harry Belafonte's Film Producer, Ike Jones Resigns

NEW YORK, N.Y. (ANP)—Phil Stein, executive producer of Belafonte Enterprises, Inc., announced Monday that Ike Jones, vice president and producer of HarBel, Belafonte's independent motion picture producing company, is leaving the organization effective immediately, to return to his home base in Los Angeles, and join a newly formed film producing company in a similar capacity.

HarBel, a New York based organization, would necessitate having Jones' exclusive services available in the east on a year-round basis, which he found to be physically unsuitable, due to personal and professional ties in California.

A successor for HarBel, here in New York, has not as yet been designated.

Mattiwilda Dobbs, Returning from Soviet Union Fills Town Hall in N. Y.

By CARL DITON
NEW YORK, N. Y. (ANP) — Mattiwilda Dobbs, premier Negro coloratura soprano, was greeted at Town Hall Sunday with a packed audience, assembled by some 300 Gracie Congregational Church friends, where she had served at one time as regular choir soloist.

Miss Dobbs had just returned from the Soviet Union, bringing us a more or less unique program. Thanks to the connoisseurs of early classic opera, many arias have been rescued from oblivion with three of which the singer opened her program, Lully's Recitative et Air de Sanguaride (from the opera Alys) and Chant de Venus: Revenez, amour (from the opera Theseus), and Rameau's Air d'une Ombre (from Castor et Pollux).

Mendelssohn is often neglected in favor of Schumann and Brahms. Miss Dobbs seemed to have agreed in that she programmed the master's Venetianisches Gondellied, Auf Fluegel des Gesanges, Der Mond und Neue Liebe.

The long Schubert's Der Hirt auf dem Felsen with its masterful clarinet obbligato played by David Glasser, was a solo number instead of a group. Respighi's Ploggia and Stornellatras, and Castelnuovo-Tedesco's La Pastorella illustrated the more recent school of Italian song composition.

Barred From "Porgy and Bess" Flick Negroes Picket Downtown Louisville Theater

LOUISVILLE (ANP)—The NAACP threw picket lines around the Brown Theater here recently and prepared for a showdown with the management of the downtown movie house after 15 Negroes were turned away from the first public showing of "Porgy and Bess."

The 15, it was reported, had obtained tickets either through the mail or had reserved them by telephone for the opening.

Ray Thorne, manager of the theater, said afterwards that he was following the policy of all downtown, first-run theaters.

His statement drew a stern rebuff from James A. Crumlin, state NAACP president. The NAACP, Crumlin said, will continue the picketing indefinitely.

VA Urges Veterans To Check GI Insurance Policies

G. I. insurance policy holders are urged by the Veterans Administration to check their records to be sure that their designated beneficiaries are up to date.

The law gives GI policyholders the right to change their beneficiaries at any time without the consent of the prior beneficiaries. But unless the change is officially made, no choice is given to the VA but to pay the claim to the beneficiary of record.

Carelessness in designating beneficiaries may result in undesired consequences, the VA pointed out. An example is the veteran who designated his wife as beneficiary. She divorced him, and he subsequently married again and raised a family.

SHOULD HE NEGLECT to change his designated beneficiary before he dies, his insurance may be paid to his former wife, and his widow and children will receive nothing.

Policyholders also have several different options as to how the insurance shall be paid. Explanation of these options can be obtained by contacting any VA office.

At sundown use headlights — not parking lights. Speed should go down with the sun.

Congressman Powell Backs Hulan Jack

By SAMUEL P. PERRY JR.
NEW YORK, N. Y. (ANP) — Congressman Adam C. Powell, Jr. joined with his key leaders to give support to the currently beleaguered Hulan E. Jack, Manhattan Borough President.

Mr. Powell gave his support to Jack via telephone from Puerto Rico where he is convalescing from a recent operation.

J. Raymond Jones, one of Powell's key lieutenants, issued the following statement:

"We have worked with Borough President for many years.

"We have complete confidence in his integrity.

"During the years of his service in the (State) Assembly, and as leader of the 14th Assembly District, he continued to work at the job he had prior to his entrance into politics.

"In all these years he has been a diligent worker and a God-fearing family man. We are firmly confident that venality is not a part of his character." With reference to the current difficulties of Mr. Jack, the statement termed him the victim of "poor judgment" and "thoughtless friends." A statement from the city's leading Negro clergymen is expected shortly.

Indiana Central Nursing School Sets Open House

The nursing department at Indiana Central College was to hold a special open house Saturday, Jan. 9, for young women interested in preparing for careers as nurses.

Miss Virginia Sims, director of ICC's two-year nursing program, announced this week.

Registration for the open house will be held in the lobby of the new Academic Hall from 10 to 10:30 A. M. Afterwards the visitors will tour the nursing department.

Miss Sims said future nurses studying at ICC attend classes on the college campus and receive clinical instruction at Community Hospital. She added the program is approved by the Indiana State Board of Nurses Registration and Nursing Education and by the National League for Nursing.

IN TWO COLLEGE years and two summer sessions a young woman can complete work which will give her an associate degree in science and prepare her to take the regular state examination to become a registered nurse.

Passing the examination will qualify her for immediate work as a nurse. Or if she prefers, she can continue for another two years and receive a bachelor's degree before beginning her nursing career.

Girls wishing to learn more about ICC's nursing program were urged on the campus for registration at 10 A. M., Saturday, Jan. 9.

"Sidelights" . . . business, industry and labor

DAVID AUGUSTUS, 55 E. 70th St., local architectural designer and building contractor recently leased the old Broad Ripple railroad station building at East 64th St. and the Monon Railroad from the Monon Railroad Co. The station building said to have been erected in 1908 has been restored by Mr. August to represent a "gay nineties" railroad depot.

Following restoration the structure is to house the Whistler Stop Sausage House. Features of the restoration include the use of railroad schedules which date back to 1895 as wallpaper. Gas lights have been installed and the exterior painted bright red and yellow to simulate a "gay nineties atmosphere."

Perhaps this is fitting — as we ponder or fancy the ghosts of the "Iron Horse" of yesterday shall still hover over environs of the station during "injun summer" particularly, or again on the colorful and betimes sombre eves of the holidays. But coming or going from the station people will be concerned immediately about purchasing cheeses and sausages — so it is said — from far away places.

GUY LOY, following the creation of an Eastern Division by the Food Stores has been promoted to the position of vice president of the Eastern Division. The new division was created to extend operations of the firm out of Indianapolis. Operations of the new division will be extended to include Cleveland, Dayton and Cincinnati.

McLEOD HITTSON, assistant branch manager, will succeed Mr. Loy with merchandising control of the organization's 71 food outlets nearly all of which are in Indiana.

Mr. Loy with 40 years of experience in the food merchandising field has been a branch manager 30 years. He has schooled or trained various grocery executives. All acclaiming his ability or enterprise in this compelling field of merchandising.

W. W. HENSLEY, operations vice president of Howard W. Sams Co. announces that Max E. Hague has been appointed personnel director of the parent firm and its subsidiary. The Bobbs-Merrill Co. Mr. Hague is a native of Kokomo and a 1949 graduate of Indiana University. He served as corporate relations manager with the Flexonics Corporation, Maywood, Ill., before joining Howard Sams & Co. At one time he was associated with the Drilite Company of America, Kokomo, as personnel manager.

REILY G. ADAMS, president of the Stewart-Carey Glass Co., announces the appointment of Lee A. Lahr as assistant sales manager and Richard J. Arter, supervisor of inventory control records. Mr. Arter joined the firm in 1951. Mr. Lahr joined the firm in 1953 to manage the auto glass division. He will continue in this capacity in addition to directing sales.

ROBT. T. UNGERMAN, Indianapolis district manager of the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. recently won a three months' sales contest held by the company. Mr. Ungerman as a district manager was awarded a trip for two to Rome. He and his wife are scheduled to leave New York by plane about Jan. 10. They will spend a week in Rome.

NICK TOOMBS, president of the Capital City Tire Co., 425 N. Delaware St. was a winner in the dealer division. He and Mrs. Toombs also will make the trip to Rome.

WAYNE SMITH, a store supervisor in the Indianapolis district, was a winner in his division and he and his wife also will make the trip to the "Eternal City."

(During the very last days of 1959 this writer was an innocent bystander where a small group of sober fellow-citizens were discussing a significant topic of the times. At one point one fellow observed that he was not to be reckoned with as an authority on any subject or in any field.

However, he observed that at one time he had been equal to a "surely comprehensive exploration" of the art of "cooking corn-bread and chitterlings." And thereby hangs a tale.

Even as Abraham Lincoln and Jefferson Davis, this writer was born in Kentucky and in the same county as Jefferson Davis. This was "corn-bread and chitterlings territory or country." But this writer also can not, must not be reckoned an authority on any subject, an any field.

However, in our times he (this writer) has consumed a "mountain of cornbread." But a little while after the flare through Americana of the "hobble skirt" this writer desisted from eating chitterlings. Further, we submit that in all of the Twentieth Century (like the 'ole gray mare) corn-meal has not been the way it used to be, neither has flour.

(Contemplating 1960, this writer is left out on a limb as an authority in any field, and it is no consolation that "wamm near 170 million people of the U.S.A. are likely in the same boat.")

Negro Layman Is First U. S. Envoy To Guinea

WASHINGTON, D. C. (ANP)—Dr. John H. Morrow, an eminent Negro Methodist layman, is currently serving as the United States' first ambassador to the Republic of Guinea, formerly French Guinea in Africa.

Prior to his recent appointment by President Eisenhower, Ambassador Morrow was chairman of the Romance Languages Department and professor of French at North Carolina State College in Durham.

His father, the late John Eugene Morrow, was a Methodist minister in New Jersey. The ambassador's brother, E. Frederic Morrow, also a Methodist, is on the White House staff as administrative officer of the Special Projects Group.

While residing in Durham, Ambassador Morrow was chairman of the Commission on Stewardship and Finance at Asbury Temple Methodist Church, and he is still a trustee.

Mrs. Morrow was chairman of the board of directors of the Wesley Foundation at North Carolina State College.

NEW YORK — Adam Clayton Powell, Democratic Congressman and pastor of a New York's Abyssinian Baptist Church, lately proposed to submit for the Congressional Record, of Harlem gamblers whom New York police ignore.

The Congressman told a rally of more than 1,000 persons that he personally knows of 13 Italians operating numbers games in Harlem without interference by the police department.

The New York Congressman minister said from the pulpit of his church, "I am against numbers in any form. But until the day when numbers (racket) is wiped out in Harlem I am going to fight for the Negro having the same chance as an Italian."

NEW YORK — Adam Clayton Powell, Democratic Congressman and pastor of a New York's Abyssinian Baptist Church, lately proposed to submit for the Congressional Record, of Harlem gamblers whom New York police ignore.

The Congressman told a rally of more than 1,000 persons that he personally knows of 13 Italians operating numbers games in Harlem without interference by the police department.

The New York Congressman minister said from the pulpit of his church, "I am against numbers in any form. But until the day when numbers (racket) is wiped out in Harlem I am going to fight for the Negro having the same chance as an Italian."
